At one time Guanacaste, the north pacific province of Costa Rica was traveled only by bold surfers and those with very adventurous spirits. Over recent years this largely unknown Central American paradise has become home for many who were searching for a safe tropical location to call home.

Favorable land ownership laws and Central Americas most stable democracy makes Costa Rica the smart choice for making a secure investment, in what is said to be one of the most stable real estate markets in the world.

Villas Las Ventanas is a superbly constructed project in a very desirable location known for its beauty and easy going lifestyle, this is an opportunity to enjoy a wonderful investment in the sun.

Pricing starts at $295,000.00
